

Dear

In my role to secure our company, the human element is the largest attack vector. To further my knowledge regarding this expansive attack surface, I would like to attend the Foundational Application of Social Engineering (FASE) training course sponsored by Social-Engineer, LLC. This course takes place on [redacted]
I am seeking sponsorship for the cost of attending the course.

This specialized course offers four days full of content that immerses you into the world of social engineering. Each day has multiple live exercises, and each night has assigned team homework with individual feedback the next day. This is the first step in the training path to complete the Certified Ethical Social Engineer (CESE) certification. I will be provided with learning materials, lunch each day, refreshments during the day and additional resources in the form of specialized software licenses as needed for the training.

COSTS

Below is a breakdown of the total costs involved in my attending the Foundational Application of Social Engineering (FASE) training course:

- Airfare:
- Hotel:
- Course:

The total cost associated with attending this course is $

If I attend, I will gain an unparalleled opportunity to learn, communicate and employ the knowledge and insights needed to protect our company from these emerging threats. Additionally, the networking opportunities will allow me to develop important relationships with others in similar positions and the world's leading cybersecurity and social engineering experts. This makes my attendance at the Foundational Application of Social Engineering (FASE) a wise investment.

Thank you for your consideration of this request.

Sincerely,
