

Dear

In my role to secure our company, the human element is the largest attack vector. To further my knowledge regarding this expansive attack surface, I would like to attend the Masters Level of Social Engineering (MLSE) training course sponsored by Social-Engineer, LLC. This course takes place on
I am seeking sponsorship for the cost of attending the course.

This invite-only, one of a kind course is a 5-day full immersion into the world of social engineering. I will get the opportunity to participate in an adversary simulation where the targets do not know they are part of the course. I will use my skills in elicitation, rapport building, phishing, and vishing. In the evenings I can even try out covert entry skills. It is only offered once a year to a limited number of students.

COSTS

Below is a breakdown of the total costs involved in my attending the Masters Level of Social Engineering (MLSE) training course:

- Airfare:
- Hotel:
- Course:

The total cost associated with attending this course is $

If I attend, I will gain an unparalleled opportunity to learn, communicate and employ the knowledge and insights needed to protect our company from these emerging threats. Additionally, the networking opportunities will allow me to develop important relationships with others in similar positions and the world's leading cybersecurity and social engineering experts. This makes my attendance at the Masters Level of Social Engineering (MLSE) a wise investment.

Thank you for your consideration of this request.

Sincerely,
