Dear

To further our team's knowledge and expertise when it comes to social engineering attacks and techniques, I would like our team to participate Social-Engineer's Red Team Labs (RTL) training lab experience. This lab takes place on
I am seeking sponsorship for the cost of attending the course.

This is a 5-day full immersion into the world of social engineering. We will get the opportunity to participate in phishing and vishing exercises, conduct onsite reconnaissance and covert entry scenarios as well as any custom objectives our team seeks to improve on in the context of social engineering.

Below is a breakdown of the total costs involved in our attending the Red Team Labs (RTL) training experience:

• Airfare:
• Hotel:
• Course:

The total cost associated with attending this course is $

If we attend, we will gain an unparalleled opportunity to learn, communicate and employ the knowledge and insights needed to improve our team in the context of social engineering. This makes our attendance in the Red Team Labs (RTL) training experience a wise investment.

Thank you for your consideration of this request.

Sincerely,
